Another busy week in school but with one important change! Mud levels have gone down considerably!

We came in on Monday to a much-improved looking school. Over the weekend, Mr Steward, Isabelle's dad and a governor, had power washed the playground and areas around the school, laid a path to The Nest and moved the welly racks to reduce the mud load around the classrooms. We are all so grateful. It has made a huge difference already and the children have come up with a plan to keep the mud off the playground. Thank you, Mr Steward.

On Monday, we welcomed 3 students from Debenham High School as part of their Young Enterprise initiative. Elba, Felix and Reuben talked to all the children about the need for good sleep, talking about sleep routines, avoiding screens before bed and other useful tips. As part of their project they are selling sleep kits for primary children.

On Tuesday, we welcomed Yvette Carlton to introduce Reading Eggs, Maths Seeds and Mathletics to the children and staff. These are app based learning platforms which can support learning in the classroom, at home. The platforms strengths are around the links between what has been taught and allowing children to practice this in a child friendly and accessible way. We will be using the apps to set homework but can provide paper-based tasks if parents do not wish their child to spend the time on the screen.

Have a good week.
