I can't believe half term is on the calendar already! We have a packed fortnight ahead and time will fly. Next week will be SATs week for our Year 6s. They have worked really hard and we feel that they are ready to do the best they can. We try to maintain a really calm and supportive feel to the assessments, supporting children to feel confident and happy. They are always awarded ice creams at the end of the week! We wish them all luck for the assessments.

The week after is our annual Arts Week. This year we have lots of exciting visitors, activities and events. We're really excited about everything that is going on. As normal, the gallery event will take place on Friday with art works and videos to view as well as tea and cake available to buy. This year, we will not have a Celebration Assembly in the morning as we have visitors working with the children in the morning.

We are forecast some rain over the next few weeks. Please remember that the school go out at break and lunchtime, whatever the weather so waterproofs are needed on wet days. A number of the children seem astonished at the suggestion!

Finally, Mrs. Stoney will be painting sections of the hall over the next week. If anyone would like to help, she'd be really glad of the help. She's only painting as high as she can reach so not very high! We're putting up narrow shelves to display the children work from Art's Week which will look even more lovely on a freshly painted background...

Have a lovely week,
Jen Carlyle
