What a beautiful week! The weather has certainly been kind though I think the bank holiday weekend may offer some much needed rain!

Firstly, thank you to all of you for the reactions and support following our enforced closure due to a water main bursting. Parents, children and staff were absolutely fantastic and the school was completely emptied by 11am. No mean feat!

I really enjoyed meeting the new PTFA group this morning who have lots of ideas for fundraising over the next year. Thank you to Chloe Fox, Hannah Wilkinson, Kate Harvey and Kristin Steward- our new PTFA committee!

SATs week starts the week after next for our lovely Year 6 group. They are very well prepared and should feel calm and confident. Please reassure them that Sats are not a true measure of anything other than where a child is academically at that point, at that time. They have no real meaning beyond measuring how well the school have taught.

Elaine at Fram. College has asked me to invite parents to watch the swimming session next Friday for Year 2,3 and 4. We get into the pool at around 12.45 and swim until 1.30.

Finally, we'd like to welcome Charlotte Farrow Beales to our team. Charlotte has taken on the role of Middy Supervisor. I'm really pleased that Charlotte has joined the school- I know that the children will love having her on the playground!

Have a lovely week,
Jen Carlyle
